Website terms of use and disclaimer

You must not alter, disrupt, or interfere with our website or its content in any way.

Informational Use Only – Content on this website is provided for general information and educational purposes. It is not a substitute for professional medical, psychological, or therapeutic advice. Always seek guidance from a qualified professional for personal circumstances.

No Professional Services – Family Therapy Consultancy does not provide medical, diagnostic, or clinical services through this website. Reliance on website content is at your own risk.

Accuracy of Information – While we aim to keep content current and accurate, we make no guarantees about completeness, reliability, or suitability. Content may change without notice.

Intellectual Property – All website content (text, graphics, logos, images, videos, recordings) is owned or licensed by us and protected by copyright. It may only be used for personal, non-commercial purposes.

Third-Party Links – Any links to external websites are for convenience only. We are not responsible for, nor do we necessarily endorse, their content.

Limitation of Liability – We exclude liability for any loss, damage, or injury resulting from your use of this website, to the fullest extent permitted by law.

Jurisdiction – These terms are governed by the laws of Western Australia.

Meditation Resources – Any meditation practices or resources provided are for general wellness and educational purposes only. They are not a substitute for medical or psychological treatment. Do not use meditation as your sole form of care for health concerns, and avoid practising alone if it may compromise your safety. Always seek professional advice for individual health needs.
